

ACCREDITATION OF FLORIDA-BRED QUARTER HORSE FOALS

- A. Effective June 29, 2006 and for a period ending no sooner than 12/31/09; a Florida-Bred is defined as follows:
 - 1. A Quarter horse foaled within the State of Florida at any time; or
 - 2. An American Quarter horse by a Stallion standing in Florida at the time of service and such Stallion is a Florida Accredited Stallion; or
 - 3. Embryo transfer: Only one foal will be eligible to be accredited Florida-Bred per donor mare or recipient mare per year.
 - 4. All foals born on or after January 1, 2009, attaining Accredited Florida Bred status by being born in the state of Florida are subject to having the birth verified by a designated FQHRA official within 24 hours of the birth. Failure to notify FQHRA within 24 hours of the instate birth will result in the foal not being an eligible Accredited Florida bred.

- B. In order to have a foal accredited as a Florida-Bred, the following rules are to be followed:
 - 1. READ the above RULES FOR ACCREDITATION of Florida-Bred foals carefully.
 - 2. A correct and completely filled out APPLICATION FOR ACCREDITATION must be sent to the Florida Quarter Horse Racing Association. The burden for the correctness and authenticity of all information supplied on the application is borne by the applicant. Forms are available upon request from this office. PLEASE TYPE OR PRINT all information and DOUBLE CHECK the application for accuracy.
 - 3. The breeder of a horse shall be the breeder named on the official American Quarter Horse Association (AQHA) registration certificate.
 - 4. A copy of the horse's registration certificate issued by the American Quarter Horse Association, must accompany this application. The Department of Agriculture will issue a certificate, bearing the Florida-Bred identification number. If the horse's registration certificate has not yet been received from AQHA, this office will hold the application and fee pending receipt of a copy of the registration certificate.
 - 5. FEES: Enclose proper registration fee. Make check payable to Florida Quarter Horse Racing Association. Non members of FQHRA add $50.00 to all fees.
